Managing documents with multiple parties is an inefficient activity.

It takes too much TIME AND RESOURCES to manage meetings, telephone conferences, emails and the many document versions. This results in HIGHER TRANSACTION COSTS.

The DOCUMENTATION of contract negotiations (version chaos) is not transparent and depends on individual (random) processes. Therefore, the documentation is prone to errors and COMPLIANCE is at risk.

Current solutions and combinations that ultimately fail.

Using MARK-UP FUNCTIONS and creating multiple versions of the same document becomes CHAOTIC easily.

Sharing files in CLOUD SERVICES such as Dropbox or GoogleDocs is RISKY because of data protection and potential compliance issues.

Communicating in COLLABORATION TOOLS like Microsoft Teams do not have the right functionality for lawyers such as live document editing.
