Language of instruction: English
ECTS Credits: 2

This course is designed to help students gain more familiarity with issues such as business, politics, culture, etc. which are currently shaping South/Southeast Asia. A number of current issues of importance concerning the nations of that region, including China and India, will be covered. Other goals of this course include helping students become proficient in using English media for research and encouraging students to be selflearners who will continue to research such issues long after this course comes to an end.
