

Announcement Scholarships Incomings @ HTWG Konstanz

All incoming students starting in the winter term of 2022 at the HTWG Konstanz – University of Applied Sciences can apply for scholarships offered within the framework of the DAAD project “Internationalisation of Universities of Applied Sciences (UAS.International)”. The scholarships are intended to help incoming students cover the costs of their academic studies at the HTWG Konstanz and are only available for students not receiving a scholarship or funding from another institution.

The scholarships include both a mobility scholarship and financial support for one month during the semester stay in Konstanz. The mobility scholarship ranges from 850 – 1,175 Euros, depending on the student’s country of origin. The one-month financial support amounts to 750 Euros. The scholarships are available for all incoming students planning to study in person at the HTWG Konstanz for at least one semester. Applications should include the following documents, which should be submitted in a single pdf document (max. 4 MB):

- Letter of motivation
- Curriculum Vitae
- Transcript of records

All documents will be taken into consideration when the committee selects the scholarship recipients.

Please submit your complete application documents to project coordinator, Dr. Barbara Landwehr (barbara.landwehr@htwg-konstanz.de). The application deadline is July 15th, 2022. If you have any questions, please contact Mrs. Landwehr at the above email.

Selections will be made based on the following criteria: The applicant should display a high level of academic achievement along with social and intercultural competency. The selection process is based on equal opportunity and equity. The selection committee welcomes applications from incoming students in all HTWG Konstanz academic programs.

Awarding of scholarships: Once selected, the recipients sign a contract stating that they accept the scholarship. This contract also specifies the amount and length of the scholarship. After successfully completing their stay in Konstanz, the student will then receive a scholarship certificate denoting the type of scholarship and that is specifically a DAAD scholarship.
