Refugees in Germany: What Happened? What's Now? What's Next?

A Round Table arranged by the Office of Equal Opportunity, Family Affairs and Diversity, University of Konstanz with the kind support of DAAD

Place: Café Mondial, im Palmenhauspark, Zum Hussenstein 12, Konstanz 78462

Time: Thursday, July 28, 16.00 – 18.00

Moderators:

Lina Kurchenko, cross-cultural expert

Reza Khavari, psychologist

Yuliia Romanova, prosecutor

During the event, refugee students and employees of the University of Konstanz have the opportunity to share their escape experiences and impressions of life in Germany from diverse professional perspectives: cross-cultural, psychological and legal. We will discuss, what makes people leave their home countries, what difficulties they experience as refugees and what can be done to make them safe and happy under the new circumstances. Feel free to express your opinion in the discussion.

Following the discussion, members of the Refugee Law Clinic will present their free consulting service for refugees in Konstanz.

Language: English, with a possibility of Ukrainian translation.

Entrance: free upon registration
